Welcome to the first issue of BIZ.IT.UP…

We have done it! We are technologically advanced! The Collins College of Business UG Programs has been sending emails for years. Over the summer our GA's turned our paper files into electronic files through our new scanning system. And, we have added SKYPE accounts, LinkedIn accounts, a facebook group, a twitter account and starting our first email newsletter. We hope to add more services in the future. We really are trying to keep up with college students and the way they communicate. Is it working? Here is what we don't want: We don't want to stop seeing you. We WANT you to come by and say hello. We want you to come by and eat our candy. ☺ With all the technology, face-to-face interaction can sometimes be lost. We don't want that! We love talking with our students and we want to know what is going with you. HELM 215 is a one-stop-shop for academics and career information for the business college. If you haven't been by this semester to say hello, stop by soon!

Business Career Development

For the last year we have provided a service to our business students that is proving to be an incredible resource for employers to recruit TU BIZ students for internships and jobs. Caroline Franklin, Lisa Enke, and Brittany Teague have worked to prepare business students for a career. Their office is in the Williams Student Services Center, HELM 215. Some of their student resources include:

- Resume and cover letter review
- Internship and job search strategies
- Mock interviews
- Workshops
- Employer information
- Career events
- Salary information
- Information about campus interviews
- Registering with Golden OpporTUnities
- Networking techniques
- Dress for success

If you have not met Caroline and her staff, please stop by soon to find out how they can help you!
