Expectations Statement

Guiding the Relationship Between
The University of Tulsa and its Student Organizations

The University of Tulsa, students govern their organizations with minimal administration intrusion, but staff members are available who provide guidance, advice, direction, and support to officers and members. Through the Division of Enrollment and Student Services, the University annually allocates a significant amount of money to the Student Association to support its campus-wide programming efforts. Additionally, in spring 1995, students passed a resolution assessing themselves a student activity fee. These funds are in turn allocated by the Student Association through the Student Organization Committee (SOC) to support the programs and activities of student organizations that meet the requirements of the SA constitution and bylaws and are recognized by the Student Organization Committee. High expectations are held for the manner in which students manage the business of their organizations. The items below clarify these expectations.

Officers and members of University of Tulsa student organizations are expected to:

- recognize their obligations to be positive representatives of TU in all their activities and programs;
- conduct their fiscal affairs in accordance with University policies and procedures;
- follow sound business practices, and meet their fiscal obligations in a timely fashion;
- follow established procedures for adhering to SOC and Student Association standards, policies, and procedures;
- adhere to all University policies and procedures including but not limited to those printed each year in the Student Handbook;
- maintain open lines of communication and act in good faith in alerting the University to issues or situations that may reflect the image of the University, its members, or the organization in an unfavorable light;
- establish and maintain an effective working relationship with the staff members in the Office of Student Affairs.

The national Greek organizations with chapters at TU have a special relationship with the University. Specifically, fraternities and sororities are subject to the rules, regulations, and oversight of their national organizations and officers. Additionally, fraternities and sororities, through their house corporation boards, are responsible for maintaining the chapter houses. Sororities have partial responsibility while fraternities have full responsibility for the upkeep of their houses. The University holds the following expectations for fraternities and sororities in addition to those listed above.

Officers and members of The University of Tulsa's national social and service fraternities and sororities are expected to:

- adhere to all national/international organization policies in order to maintain their campus charter;
- for those with chapter housing, have a functioning house corporation board and annually provide one contact name; address, and telephone number from this corporation to the Office Student Affairs;
- allow only students enrolled at TU to reside in chapter housing;
- maintain the exterior of the chapter house and lawn so as to present an attractive, clean, welcoming appearance;
- maintain the interior of the chapter house in accordance with fire, health, safety, and local building codes;
- be members in good standing of one of the recognized governing bodies in the Greek Community: Interfraternity Council or the Panhellenic Council;
- establish and maintain alumni/alumnae support for the purpose of providing continuity, stability, information, training, leadership, business expertise, and maturity; and annually provide one contact name, address, and telephone number to the Office Student Affairs.

The officers and member of SOC-recognized organizations expect The University of Tulsa administration to:

- support a strong system of student organizations and groups to meet the needs and interests of the campus community;
- recognize and support student self-government in the operations of student organizations and groups that are recognized by the Student Organization Committee of the Student Association;

- support campus programs and events through funding to the Student Association from the University's annual operating budget;
- through the Coordinator of Student Activities and the Office of Student Affairs/Dean of Students, provide advising, support, guidance, and direction to officers and members of student organizations.

In addition to the above, the members of the national service and social fraternities and sororities expect The University of Tulsa administration to:

- include the on-campus chapter houses as housing options in the materials sent to prospective and current students;
- make available to active chapters the names and addresses of students who have paid their admission deposits to the University to assist the chapters in their Rush process;
- encourage and foster communication between the local active chapters, the governing organizations (IFC and Panhellenic), and the administration;
- through the Office of Student Affairs, identify an individual to serve as Greek Advisor to provide advising, guidance, support, and direction to officers, members, and alumni advisors;
- assist the officers of Panhellenic and the Interfraternity Council with an annual review and assessment of the Rush process and the progress of the Greek system and its relationship to The University of Tulsa.

Muslim Student Association

Advisor: Pamela Smith, pamela-smith@utulsa.edu, Ext. 2329

What is Islam? Islam is not a new religion, but the same truth that God revealed through all His prophets to every people. The Arabic word simply means 'submission' and derives from a word meaning 'peace.' In a spiritual context it means complete submission to the will of God. For a fifth of the world's population, Islam is both a religion and complete way of life. Muslims follow a religion of peace, mercy, and forgiveness. The MSA takes a strong stand for Islam as a complete way of life. By this, we will develop a dynamic, united and welcoming community on campus, raise awareness of Islam, and help people become better Muslims.

Members provide a positive and supportive learning environment in an effort to help one another. Students, faculty and staff are welcome.

Resident Hall Association

Advisor: Raye Mahlberg, Housing Office, Ext. 2514
The Residence Hall Association (RHA) is a branch of student government that represents every student residing in the residence halls. Its goal is to ensure all residents have the most rewarding living experience possible while at TU. RHA sponsors all sorts of activities including social events, community service projects and blood drives. In addition, RHA continually strives to enrich residence life through dialog with the administration by sponsoring legislation for changes within the halls. Any resident is a member of RHA and can run for elected offices or join one of the many RHA committees. In addition to being leaders on campus, RHA members represent TU at various state, regional, and national conferences and is recognized as an outstanding institution at all three levels. RHA meets on Tuesday evenings at 7:30 p.m. on a rotating basis in each residence hall. Refer to the calendars located in the student handbook and The Guide to Campus Living for exact dates and locations of the meetings.

Advisor: Frank Ryan, francis-fryan@utulsa.edu, Ext. 2805
Sigma Alpha Iota is an organization for women with the purpose of promoting the art of music, supporting the School of Music at TU and participating in a wide range of musical activities on and off campus. It is open to any woman TU student with an interest and involvement in music.

Society of Automotive Engineers

Advisor: Dr. John Henshaw, john-henshaw@utulsa.edu, Ext.3002

The Society of Automotive Engineers (SAE) is a professional society devoted to mobility engineering – transport by land, sea, and air. The SAE Student Club offers speakers, tours, projects, and socials for those interested in aspects of mobility. Membership is open to all students enrolled in the College of Engineering and Applied Sciences. Members receive monthly copies of either Automotive Engineering or Aerospace Engineering magazines at no cost. SAE membership provides an opportunity to learn more about careers in the mobility industry and to meet others with similar interests.

Society of Petroleum Engineers

Advisor: Dr. Mauricio Prado, mauricio-prado@utulsa.edu, Ext. 5163

The Society of Petroleum Engineers is an international professional organization dedicated to the advancement of technology associated with the recovery of resources from wellbores. Student benefits include a subscription to the magazines, free admission to society conferences, and discounts on textbooks and other research material. SPE also awards financial assistance packages. To be a member of this organization, a student must be enrolled in a course of study leading to a degree in petroleum engineering or other related field.

Society of Women Engineers

Advisor: Christi Patton Luks, christi-luks@utulsa.edu, Ext. 2978

The Society of Women Engineers (SWE) is open to anyone in the College of Engineering and Natural Sciences (i.e, women and men in chemical, mechanical, electrical, and petroleum engineering, engineering physics, biochemistry, biology, chemistry, physics, math, computer sciences, and the geosciences). The purpose is to support and promote women in engineering and the sciences. SWE meets about once every two weeks at lunch with a guest speaker from the school or industry. Topics range from interviewing skills or graduate school to career or recycling issues. SWE also hosts socials and fund-raisers, and is involved with several local elementary, middle, and high schools. Most importantly, SWE is a good way to get involved and meet others in your college.

Student Association

ACAC, Second Floor, 631-3130

President: Justin Harlan, justin-harlan@utulsa.edu, Ext. 2728

Advisor: Steve Denton, Ext. 2585

Student Association (SA) is TU's student body organization; therefore, SA is for everybody! SA consists of four executive officers, a Cabinet, and a Senate. The Cabinet, the programming branch, is responsible for bringing to the campus entertainment such as comedians, bands, and lecturers, and conducting leadership development and educational programs. The Senate is the legislative body. Students are elected by their peers to serve as Senators. Senate investigates issues that are of concern to the student body and provides financial assistance to campus organizations. New students can get involved with SA by joining a committee. For more information regarding SA, visit their website at www.utulsa.edu/sa.

Student Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC)

Advisor: Schnea Bates-Nealy, schnea-bates@utulsa.edu, Mabee Gym, Ext. 2255

The Student Health Advisory Board assists the Student Health Center by representing the needs and interests of the student population in the area of health care. Members of the Board work with other campus organizations to address student health needs. The Board also develops and facilitates health-focused activities for the purpose of student awareness of current health issues and preventative medicine. Meetings are held monthly, and membership is open to all students regardless of major.

Student Oklahoma Education Association

Advisor: Dr. Shirley Robards, shirley-robards@utulsa.edu, Ext. 2238

The Student Education Association is an organization for education students as well as those individuals interested in education issues. Meetings are open to everyone, freshman to senior. To receive full benefits of the organization, students can join for $30. With membership, students receive a one million-dollar liability insurance policy, newsletters, and magazines from the National Education Association and the Oklahoma Education Association, admission to the Oklahoma Education Association Convention, and many other benefits.

TU Coalition for Women's Issues

Advisor: Jan Wilson Doolittle, jan-wilson@utulsa.edu; Ext. 2410

The TU Coalition for Women's Issues meets Monday nights at 9:30 p.m. in the United Campus Ministries Center (aka the Little Blue House) at 5th and Evanston. An affiliate of the Feminist Majority Leadership Alliance, CWI is a student organization that welcomes all people, regardless of gender, race, sexual orientation, or other factors, to participate in discussion and activism around a wide range of feminist issues. CWI traditionally raises money for Tulsa Project Woman (an organization which provides mammograms and breast health education for low-income Tulsa-area women), holds a series of events for Women's Heritage Month, and maintains a strong relationship with the TU Women's Studies Certificate governing board. CWI also hosts and organizes a variety of events in conjunction with other TU student organizations, and organizes smaller events for weekly meetings such as book discussions, conversational forums, craft projects, and speakers. Students from CWI travel to regional and national conferences through the Feminist Majority Foundation and the American Association of University Women.

TU Global Network

Advisor: J. Markham Collins, mark-collins@utulsa.edu, HELM 218, Ext. 2783

We are seeking members that want to broaden their horizons by learning about other cultures/customs and how those and related topics apply to business in an international setting, and in life in general. We are also seeking business/professional contacts that would like to become involved through providing speakers, employment opportunities, or sponsorships to the TU Global Network and its members. We strongly encourage new experiences and promote friendships between people of all cultures and nationalities.

TUTSATA (Sports Medicine)

Advisor: Sydney Ringer, sydney-ringer@utulsa.edu, Ext. 5228

The focal point of this organization is to allow students to become better acquainted with various professions related to sports medicine. Members learn from lectures ranging from massage therapy to stress management to knee reconstruction. Any student interested in the field of sports medicine or athletic training is welcome to join the fun and excitement of the Hurricane Sports Medicine Club.

TU Student Speech-Language-Hearing Association (TUSSLHA)

Advisor: Suzanne Stanton, M.A. suzanne-stanton@utulsa.edu, Ext. 2909

The TU Student Speech-Language-Hearing Association (TUSSLHA) is a paraprofessional organization for graduate and undergraduate students in Speech-Language Pathology. It is a chapter of the National Student Speech-Language-Hearing Association (NSSLHA), which is associated with the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA). TUSSLHA goals are to help prepare students to function in the professional community, to stimulate sharing of information relevant to speech-language pathology and to provide current information on professional issues. TUSSLHA members benefit from guest speakers, networking with area professionals, opportunities to participate in the state and national profession organizations, and opportunities for practical application and service to the academic program and the community. TUSSLHA projects include free speech-language and hearing screenings during Better Speech and Hearing Month and the annual Route 66 conference.

TU Student Nurses Association

Advisors: Dr. Kristie Nix, kristie-nix@utulsa.edu, Ext. 2921 or
Rhonda Martin, rhonda-martin@utulsa.edu, Ext. 2922

Tulsa University Student Nurses Association (TUSNA) is a pre-professional organization for nursing students at TU. It is a constituent of the Oklahoma Student Nursing Association and the National Student Nurses' Association. TUSNA plays a major role in the campus life of nursing students. Membership is open to any nursing student enrolled at TU regardless of when they enter the program. The purpose of the organization is to promote development of the whole person, professionally and personally. Being in TUSNA is a great way for underclassmen to meet and establish friendships with upperclassmen.

TU Women's Robotics

Advisor: Doug Jussaume, douglas-jassaume@utulsa.edu, Ext. 3272

TU Women's Robotics (TUWR) is a newly founded organization on campus. Our purpose is to work in a professional engineering team, gaining experience through team and research. We are working on designing robots for competitions. All women in any field are welcome to join.

United Campus Ministry

Director: Nancy Eggan, nancy-eggen@utulsa.edu, 2839 E. 5th, 808-4764

The United Campus Ministry provides a safe place for discussion of subjects such as faith and contemporary life, current events, peace and justice, campus and community concerns, sexual identity, and self-identity. Located in the small blue house behind HELM, the center hosts and supports a variety of student groups including Amnesty International, B.L.G.T.A. (Bisexual-Lesbian-Gay-Transgender Alliance), Earth Matters, Students for Choice, and the Women's Collective. We are a campus ministry with roots in the Episcopal, Presbyterian, Christian (Disciples of Christ), Lutheran, Unitarian, and United Church of Christ denominations. We provide volunteer/service opportunities with the Kendal-Whittier neighborhood surrounding TU and the other local, national, and international organizations. We meet weekly on Wednesdays at noon for a program and a free vegetarian lunch. You are invited to visit our site on the Internet (from the TU site). We welcome students of all faiths and all beliefs.

Vietnamese Student Association

Advisor: Wen Chiang, wen-chiang@utulsa.edu, Ext. 2939

The Vietnamese Student Association of The University of Tulsa is a social support organization dedicated to promoting and preserving the culture of Vietnam. Our goal is to unite those people who share the Vietnamese culture, who have an interest in our culture, or to any of those who wish to share in our activities, regardless of race, sex, or ethnic group.

Wesley Foundation

Director: Charlie Spears, 3019 E. 5th, 592-5778. Fax: 592-5777, email: wesley@utulsa.edu

Wesley is a campus ministry with a heart for all TU students. Director Charlie Spears hosts a Christian Rock show on KMOD (97.5) at midnight on Sundays. Tune him in for late night studies. Activities at Wesley include free lunch on Fridays from noon to 12:50 with a speaker, Bible studies, worship, intramurals, a C.S. Lewis reading group, retreats, parties, and more!

Westminster Leaders and Scholars

Advisor: Jeffrey Francis, jeff-francis@utulsa.edu, Ext. 2546

The Westminster Leaders and Scholars bring students together to live their faith through fellowship meetings, leadership development experiences, service projects, and mission work. Weekly meetings led by the program director give participants an ongoing forum for sharing, learning and growing. Participant's design and execute leadership initiative, including ongoing mission work. Travel is also a key part of the program, with a yearly orientation trip for incoming freshmen, a yearly mission trip for the entire group, and a biennial trip to Scotland to explore the roots of the Presbyterian Church.

Westminster Society/Presbyterian Campus Ministry

Advisor: Jeffrey Francis, jeff-francis@utulsa.edu, Ext. 2546

The Westminster Society/Presbyterian Campus Ministry extends programming to the entire University community, including Presbyterian students, faculty and staff, as well as members of other TU Faith groups. Fellowship gatherings under the direction of the Westminster Society coordinator give participants an opportunity to socialize in a relaxed, supportive environment that includes speakers, readings and music, in addition to refreshments or larger campus wide meetings, which are ecumenical in nature. From the firm foundation of our Presbyterian heritage, we celebrate the fact that the TU spiritual community includes people of all ages, backgrounds and faiths.

Women in Communications, Inc.

Advisor: Holly Kruse, holly-kruse@utulsa.edu, Ext. 3845

The University of Tulsa Campus Chapter of WICI is the student chapter of Women in Communications, Inc. The purposes of the chapter are to work for a free and responsible press; to unite people engaged in all fields of communications; to recognize distinguished achievements of women in these fields; to maintain high professional standards; and to encourage members to greater individual effort. Members have the opportunity to meet with and learn from local professionals, developing a network of professional contacts. This group is open to both women and men.

Greek Organizations

Panhellenic Council

President: Elyse Combs, elyse-combs@utulsa.edu
The University of Tulsa Panhellenic Council is composed of all members of the women's fraternities on our campus. As stated in the Panhellenic creed, all individuals involved in women's fraternities on campus are dedicated to good scholarship and high standards of ethical conduct and to work in harmony and understanding with each other to further the ideals of fraternity life.

Alpha Kappa Alpha

Holmes Student Center, Room 51, 631-2327
President: Vanessa Norman, vanessa-norman@utulsa.edu
Alpha Kappa Alpha is the oldest traditionally black sorority in existence. It was also the first black sorority on TU's campus with the establishment of the Theta XI chapter in 1974. The sorority's international goals consist of a Washington D.C. presence, Partnership in Math & Science (PIMS), Strengthening the Black Family, Business Roundtable, Senior Residence Center and Partnership with American Red Cross. Alpha Kappa Alpha does not participate in fall rush and requires interested young ladies to have 12 credit hours with a minimum GPA of 2.5.

Chi Omega

3100 E. 5th Pl., 631-2597
President: Jaclyn Martin, jaclyn-martin@utulsa.edu
Established in 1895, Chi Omega was the first women's fraternity at The University of Tulsa. Emphasis on scholarship, leadership, and philanthropic service provides growth opportunities for "Chi O's." Philanthropic projects are determined by local chapters to meet community needs. The owl and the white carnation are symbols of this sisterhood.

Delta Delta Delta

3112 E. 5th Pl., 631-2596
President: Kelsey Leek, kelsey-leek@utulsa.edu
Delta Delta Delta, known as Tri-Delta, is an organization of collegiate women who strive to develop individually as well as a whole. Their purpose includes involvement with the campus and community and the development of leadership qualities, as well as the formation of bonds and lifetime friendships. Tri-Deltas are actively involved on campus in a wide range of organizations and also participate in community philanthropies such as house renovations, blood drives, golf tournaments for children's cancer research, and an annual tree trimming party with children at the Children's Medical Center.

Delta Gamma

3150 E. 5th Pl., 631-2592
President: Michelle Troia, michelle-troia@utulsa.edu
Established in 1873, Delta Gamma encourages and supports high ideals of scholarship, leadership, philanthropic service, and sisterhood. Sight Conservation, Aid to the Blind, and educational grants/loans represent the Delta Gamma Foundation projects. The symbols of Delta Gamma are the anchor and the cream rose. The Gamma Beta chapter was established at The University of Tulsa in 1947. Its main philanthropic service projects include Anchor Splash and free Vision Screenings. They also participate in various other community service projects yearly. Members represent all areas of campus life and are leaders in a wide range of student activities.

Delta Sigma Theta

Holmes Student Center, #51, 631-2327
President: Brittany Lewis, brittany-lewis@utulsa.edu
Advisor: Yolanda Taylor, Office of Student Affairs, Holmes Student Center #51, 631-2328
Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. is a historically black, public service sorority with the five major organizational thrusts: educational development, economic development, political awareness and involvement, international awareness and involvement. Rho Delta chapter was established at TU in 1990. Delta Sigma Theta does not participate in fall rush and requires interested young women to have 24 college credit hours and a minimum GPA of 2.5.

Kappa Alpha Theta

3210 E. 5th Pl., 631-2531
President: Tanee VanPelt, tanee-vanpelt@utulsa.edu
Kappa Alpha Theta, the first Greek letter fraternity for women, was founded in 1870. Thetas are known nationally for their service and scholarship. The University of Tulsa chapter's philanthropy is CASA—Court Appointed Special Advocates. The symbol is the kite and the flower is the pansy. In Kappa Alpha Theta, diversity is stressed, and the individual is as important as the family of sisterhood.

Kappa Delta

3146 E. 5th Pl., 631-2593
President: Amy Brown, amy-brown@utulsa.edu
Founded in 1897, the sisterhood of Kappa Delta promotes and develops high ideals socially and academically among its members. The prevention of child abuse is "Kay-Dee's" major philanthropic focus. Locally, the Parent-Child Center of Tulsa benefits from the Shamrock Project fund raising effort and other contributions are made to the National Center for Child Abuse Prevention. The white rose and colors of green and white are symbols of these women's fraternity.

Kappa Kappa Gamma

3146 E. 5th Pl., 631-2593
President: Brook Nievar, brook-nievar@utulsa.edu
Kappa Kappa Gamma is a fraternity for women founded in 1870 to further the collegiate experience both academically and socially for its members. Striving for excellence through involvement, leadership, philanthropy, and academia, Kappa offers a system that perpetuates life enriching experiences as well as incredible sister support. This support filters to the community through our aid to the American Cancer Society and the Tulsa Foodbank and Homeless Shelter. Our chapter is also very involved in campus organizations and intramural sports. You can recognize Kappas as being proud wearers of the golden key. Our symbols include the owl, the fleur-de-lis (iris) and the colors of light and dark blue.

Interfraternity Council

President: Matt Bader, matt-bader@utulsa.edu
Advisor: Alyson Garrison, alyson-garrison@utulsa.edu; Ext. 3516
The Interfraternity Council is the representative governing body of all male fraternities. The fraternity community strives to offer programs that will help members grow and mature academically, physically, socially, and spiritually. IFC holds the ideals of leadership, community service, campus involvement, achievement, and camaraderie.

Alpha Phi Alpha

Holmes Student Center, #51, 631-2327
President:
Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc., stresses leadership and service to all. With 750 graduate and college chapters worldwide, Alpha Phi Alpha is the oldest of Black fraternities. Past members include Martin Luther King, W.E.B. DuBois, and Thurgood Marshall. Two of the service projects that Alpha Phi Alpha sponsors are the "Go To High School, Go To College" program, which encourages Black youths to stay in school and to attend college; and "A Voteless People is a Hopeless People," which is the fraternity's national voter registration drive. Here at The University of Tulsa, the Omicron Nu Chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha sponsors a canned food drive with the "Food for Families" campaign, and our members help tutor area youths.

Kappa Alpha

3145 E. 7th, 631-4025
President: Tim Dixon, tim-dixon@utulsa.edu
Kappa Alpha Order remains one of the strongest fraternities on campus. Being the only fraternity with a spiritual founder, our gentlemanly southern heritage proudly linked to Robert E. Lee sets us apart from all other Greek organizations. We are unique in that our intent is not to "mold" a man but to give him the opportunity to improve himself and to enhance those positive qualities already inherent in his character. Diversity, both scholastically and culturally, is our key to campus leadership. Our outstanding reputation on campus is also linked to our commitment to community service, intramural sports, and a unique social calendar filled with sorority mixers, dances, and unrivaled annual theme parties.

Kappa Sigma

President: Michael Guilfoy, michael-guilfoy@utulsa.edu

Kappa Sigma excels in all areas of collegiate life at The University of Tulsa. We have the largest membership of any fraternity on campus, and with this comes excellent representation in all areas of the school. Kappa Sigma brothers are very active and hold many positions in honor societies such as Mortar Board, Tau Beta Pi, and Omicron Delta Kappa. We consistently have brothers named Top-Ten Freshmen and Top Ten Seniors and we believe this is strongly related to our commitment to academics. This commitment is evidenced by our unwavering ranking at or near the pinnacle of campus and Greek G.P.A. lists. With all this, we still remember to have a good time and make sure to pack our social calendar with activities unmatched in quantity or quality. In the national perspective, Kappa Sigma is among the elite of fraternities, and we at T.U. boast ten consecutive Founder's Awards of Chapter Excellence—more than any other chapter in the nation. Kappa Sigma's are men of honor, tradition, and excellence, providing not only for a meaningful and rewarding experience for your collegiate years, but also for life.

Lambda Chi Alpha

3201 E. 7th, 631-4994

President: Drewes Verseman, drewes-verseman@utulsa.edu

The men of Lambda Chi Alpha are always striving to excel in every aspect of life, including academics and campus involvement. Not only do the Lambda Chi's have the most initiated brothers of any fraternity on campus, and a prestigious reputation on campus, they are also one of the fastest growing national fraternities. The Associate Member program is also a part of Lambda Chi Alpha that sets Lambda Chi Alpha apart from other fraternities. This is significant because it allows the new members all the same rights of an initiated brother. Lambda Chi Alpha also prides itself on the diversity of its members. They have members from all over the country and many different alumni that are from other countries. The men of Lambda Chi Alpha are also very involved in campus, and have many members that are in leadership positions of different clubs and organizations on and off campus. The social aspect of fraternity life is not neglected by the Lambda Chi's as they have a social calendar that is unmatched on fraternity row. The men of Lambda Chi Alpha also have a strong brotherhood that is held above all other aspects of Greek Life. The men of Lambda Chi Alpha have pride in themselves, their brotherhood, and the fraternity.

Pi Kappa Alpha

3123 E. 7th, 631-4991

President: Jonathan Gilland, jonathan-gilland@utulsa.edu

The men of Pi Kappa Alpha at The University of Tulsa have been scholars, leaders, athletes, and gentlemen since their founding in 1936. In 1997, our chapter won the prestigious Harvey T. Newell, Jr. Award from the Pi Kappa Alpha International Fraternity, an award given to the most improved chapter in the fraternity. Internationally, Pi Kappa Alpha is composed of 200,000 initiates at 201 chapters. Our extensive social calendar includes the Fireman's Ball semiformal in the fall, numerous campus parties and functions, and culminates with the Dreamgirl Formal held annually in the spring. Recently, Pi Kappa Alpha adopted Bryant Elementary School, and our brothers are taking an active role in mentoring Tulsa's youth. The men of Pi Kappa Alpha have an unmatched pride in themselves and The University of Tulsa. Wherever you go on the TU campus, Pi Kappa Alpha will be there.

Sigma Chi

3223 E. 7th, 631-3914

President: J.D. Hanisch, jdhanisch@utulsa.edu

Sigma Chi offers an opportunity for personal development in a social setting. The Sigma Chi social calendar includes fall and spring pledge dances, the Sweetheart Formal, sorority functions, and Derby Days. Sigma Chi helps to accomplish personal academic goals and forms a close brotherhood at the same time. There are Sigma Chi's in Mortar Board Honor Society, Student Association, University Ambassadors and many more prominent TU organizations. There has been nearly a half-century of Sigma Chi's at TU. Today there are over 240,000 initiates and 227 chapters. Wherever you go throughout the world, as an undergraduate or alumnus, you'll meet Sigma Chi's.
