Ben Henneke Research Fellowship

For over sixty years, Ben Graf Henneke devoted his life and energy in support of The University of Tulsa. He graduated from The University of Tulsa in 1935 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in English, and went on to obtain an M.A. and Ph.D. from other universities. His career at The University of Tulsa began with an appointment as an Instructor and subsequently he received promotions to the academic ranks of Assistant, Associate, Professor, and Head of the Speech and Theater Department. Seventeen years later, after having served as Academic Vice-President, he was appointed President of the University, serving in that capacity from 1958 to 1967. From that time to the present, he has continued to work for the University, first as Trustees Professor of Humanities and later as President Emeritus.

Because of his devotion, dedication, and service to the University, a research fellowship was established in honor of Ben Henneke in 1998. Fellowships will be awarded to students with exemplary academic achievements and community service; these students must be in an Arts or Humanities Master's program.

Master's Level

18 credits of Tuition @ $899/hr.	$16,182
9-month Stipend @ $1333/mo.	$12,000
Total	$28,182

The applicant must be a citizen of the United States and either seeking full-time enrollment or enrolled full-time in a degree program within the Arts and Humanities (Anthropology, Art, Education, English Language and Literature, History, Speech-Language Pathology, or Psychology), and preference will be given to incoming graduate students. A recipient may remain on this award for up to three years while completing the Master's degree program. Receipt of the award is contingent upon full-time enrollment in the Graduate School at The University of Tulsa. This fellowship will provide for summer tuition and stipend if the recipient desires to study on campus all year.

By February 1 of each academic award year, the Ben Henneke Research Fellow must submit a degree Progress Report to the Dean of Research and Graduate Studies. This report must be developed in consultation with the student's advisor, and must carry the advisor's endorsement verifying the contents of the report. If no report is received by February 1, the Ben Henneke Research Fellow's award will not be renewed. Renewal is contingent upon receipt of an acceptable degree Progress Report, evidence of good academic progress (staying on track in the degree program by passing academic milestones given in departmental specifications within The University of Tulsa Graduate Bulletin), and the fellow remaining in good academic standing. The report should also contain the anticipated course schedule or the number of credits of anticipated enrollment for each of the upcoming summer, fall, and spring semesters.

Submit completed application directly to the Graduate School by January 15.
